West Agreed Their Side Takes Licking

'Victory For Peace' Hails Reds, India

LONDON, (AP)—Europe's Communists—and neutralist India—hailed the Indo-China cease-fire agreement today as a "victory for peace." Spokesmen for the anti-Communist world generally agreed their side had taken a licking.

Moscow radio led the Red chorus terming the Geneva agreement a "new victory of the forces of peace."

Indian Prime Minister Nehru issued a statement in New Delhi terming the Indo-China settlement a "great step" and "one of the outstanding achievements of the post-war era."

Ignoring the United States, Nehru paid tribute specifically to the foreign ministers of Britain, the Soviet Union, France and Communist China as well as the representatives of the Vietminh, Viet Nam, Laos and Cambodia.

Western governments had no immediate official comment. Western Europe's anti-Red press emphasized the West had little cause for self-congratulation.

The exception was France, whose people so long had hoped for peace in the Far Eastern war which they had sickened of.

French Premier Pierre Mendes-France for securing the peace agreement.

Members of the French National Assembly were about as divided.

Peace Pact Halts Direct Drain On U. S. Treasury

WASHINGTON (AP)—The negotiated end of the war in Indochina is generally regarded here as a victory for the Communists and a defeat for the free world.

It halts a direct billion-dollar-a-year drain of money and arms on the United States.

But it also creates an urgent need to shore up non-Communist areas of Southeast Asia which will almost certainly impose new burdens on this country and its allies and absorb some or all of the Indochina savings.

U. S. government officials have been talking with French leaders for several weeks about getting out of Red areas all arms and equipment which French and native anti-Communist forces have been equipped with. It is understood the French have given assurances this will be done.

It was learned, meanwhile, that the American and Allied governments are planning shortly to issue declarations of intent to form eventually a collective defense for Southeast Asia and warning the Communists not to undertake any new aggression in that area. Such action has been discussed with a

Ike Defends TVA Stand

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower said today anybody who accuses him of trying to destroy the Tennessee Valley Authority is in error—to put it as mildly as possible.

The administration's attitude toward TVA has come under hot debate in the Senate, revolving about an Eisenhower-endorsed proposal for a new private power source in the Tennessee Valley.

The President spoke out on the controversy at a news conference largely devoted to the Indochina settlement reached at Geneva.

In the course of this discussion he said he does not believe the Communists are willing to risk an all-out war with the free world.

As for his legislative program in general, Eisenhower said he thinks it is coming along in good shape although Congress is not giving him everything he asked for.

He spoke without rancor of yesterday's House vote turning down his four-year public housing program, and said simply he will make recommendations to the next Congress aimed at meeting the housing needs which will exist at that time.

The House rejected 234-156 Eisenhower's program to build 140,000 public housing units in four years. The President said, however, his housing program as a whole has met with considerable success, and does include some public housing features.

On the TVA controversy, Eisenhower said the question is a national and not simply a regional one. He described himself as not bound forever by his stand that private power should be fed into the TVA system as he directed in a recent order.

This order stirred up lengthy Senate debate which has delayed action on his atomic energy program as a whole.

But in the TVA dispute, he said, it is a question of building steam plants to produce electricity. He said the problem is: If the federal government is going to undertake the building of the plants, why not do it in such places as the Missouri Valley before doing it in the already developed Tennessee Valley region.

He emphasized he was simply trying to find out the facts, to determine the best policy, and he added with vigor that anybody who gets up and says there is any attempt to destroy TVA is, to put it as mildly as possible, in error.

The President began his news conference with a prepared statement saying he was glad agreement to stop the bloodshed in Indochina had been reached, although "the agreement contains features which we do not like."

Eisenhower said "any renewal of Communist aggression would be viewed by us as a matter of grave concern."

And he said this country will actively pursue "the rapid organization of a collective defense in Southeast Asia in order to prevent further direct or indirect Communist aggression."

14-Year-Old Girl Is Assault Victim

HOLLYWOOD, Fla., (AP)—A 14-year-old girl clad only in a brassiere was found bound and unconscious in front of the Baptist church last night, the victim of attempted rape.

Sheriff Amos Hall of Broward County who investigated said he did not think there was any connection between the attempted attack and the kidnapping of Judith Ann Roberts, 7, in Miami on July 7.

"They aren't the same type of crime," he said. "The man who tried to assault the girl here wasn't a sadist."

Hall said the girl was not raped and wasn't harmed except for the gag in her mouth and around her throat.

He quoted her as saying she was walking home from a girl friend's house about 8:20 p.m. when she noticed a man in a black car following her.

In front of the church, she said, the man got out of the car and threatened her with a gun. He forced her to the rear of the church, ripped off her pedal pushers and blouse, tied her hands and feet and gagged her.

Hall said that after the man left the girl said she crawled around to the front of the church and then lost consciousness.

Children playing nearby heard her groaning and notified authorities.

The Democratic-Liberal party congressmen issued a statement on the matter yesterday after the New York World-Telegram and Sun linked him with the projects, which the paper said are under congressional investigation. The paper said no evidence of fraud was implied.

The newspaper, however, said a Washington investigation had uncovered what were described officially as "questionable practices" in connection with the proposed Manhattan and Washington Square Southeast projects.

Roosevelt said he and his law partners worked without fees for sponsors of the 37½-million-dollar Manhattan unit, which would be located in his own congressional district.

His partners in the firm of Roosevelt, Frieden & Littauer worked without him on the Washington Square development, he said. He said he himself would not share any fees they might get from backers of the 35-million-dollar project, which is outside his district.

In response to the newspaper story, Roosevelt stated:

"Because of the fact that many friends of mine want me to be a candidate for governor of New York, the New York World-Telegram and Sun in its headlines regarding the Manhattan project have tried to twist something of which I am proud into something that they would make reprehensible."

There was no immediate comment from the newspaper on this.

Vietnamese Angry Over Peace Pact

Residents Have 10 Months To Quit Red Zone

HANOI, Indo-China, (AP)—Vietnamese officials were reported hopping mad today at news the northern half of their country is being handed over to the Communists.

Many anti-Communist civilians in Hanoi figured they had been relieved because they have 10 months to go south, instead of the maximum two they expected.

There were no demonstrations and mass expressions of rejoicing or sadness in either Hanoi or Saigon today as the cease-fire agreement partitioning Viet Nam was announced by press and radio.

Officials of the north Viet Nam government refused to talk to reporters. Informed sources said they were readying hot protests to the French.

French army officials also were silent, pending receipt of official confirmation of the news.

It was believed, however, that in the interim until the effective cease-fire hour French Union troops would push no military operations against the Communist-led Vietminh and would only defend themselves against attacks by the rebels.

Only yesterday, 10,000 French and Vietnamese troops had carried out mop-up operations in sectors 18 miles northeast of Hanoi. Sharp, quick attacks by each side were reported yesterday at various other points as the Geneva negotiations drew to a close.

The big surprise in Hanoi was the agreement that the French have 300 days to get out of the northern capital and Haiphong. No one had anticipated such a lengthy evacuation period.

Two businessmen with businesses they have been unable to sell and stocks only partially whittled down the news brought smiles if not cheers.

The average French soldier, hating duty in northern Indochina, groaned, moaned or cursed.

A spokesman for Premier Ngo Dinh Diem's government termed the agreement to divide Indochina's richest and most populous state with the Communists "disastrous for the Vietnamese people."

But a Vietnamese sergeant said (Continued On Second Page)

Fudickar To Head Cancer Fund Drive

Fred Fudickar, Jr., has been appointed chairman of the Ouachita Parish Cancer Society's 1954 fund-raising drive in Ouachita Parish.

Dr. R. W. Dickenson, president of the local board, has announced. The drive will be held September 7 through 19.

The crusade will combine an appeal for funds with an educational campaign to inform the public of the latest facts about cancer.

The national goal for 1954 is $20 million, an increase of $2 million over last year's quota which was over-subscribed by more than a million dollars. The local quota will be announced later.

"In accepting this appointment," Fudickar said, "I am deeply aware of the important responsibility it entails. Cancer now ranks second among America's killers and the annual death toll from the disease is on the increase."

"Increased cancer incidence calls for a step-up in the tempo of the nationwide crusade, spearheaded by the American Cancer Society, to effect an increased number of cures possible with present treatment methods until such time as the research goal of cures or preventives of cancer has been reached."

"I feel sure that everyone in this community will want to have a share in this vital enterprise which has the ultimate objective of banishing the spectre of cancer from the daily lives of future generations of Americans."

"Many can take a direct part in the campaign by responding when volunteers are called for to help in the fund-raising drive. All can participate by contributing even more generously than they did last year so that we can succeed in meeting our increased local quota," Fudickar said.

The subcommittee sent a new request to the Defense Department for an explanation of its reasons for holding up the clearances. It got a quick new turnaround on grounds that a detailed explanation would require the disclosure of confidential information.

Mundt was asked whether Lavenia retains his access to classified material in the subcommittee's files pending a decision. He replied:

"He has access, but I don't think he has much to do with handling classified documents. There is no change in his status."

Iron Curtain Clanks Down On 13 Million

Pacts Involve Laos And Viet Nam

GENEVA, (AP)—France made peace with her Communist enemies in Indo-China just before dawn today and a new Iron Curtain clanked down on 13 million persons in north Viet Nam.

Gen. Georges Deltell of France and Gen. Ta Quang Bui of the Vietminh rebels signed armistice agreements covering Viet Nam and Laos just 3 hours and 50 minutes after the Tuesday midnight deadline French Premier Pierre Mendes-France had set for peace or his resignation.

A truce for the third Indochina state, Cambodia, was scheduled to be signed later today.

The simple signing ceremony, under a blaze of photographers' lights in the former home of the League of Nations, called a halt to an eight-year war in which 92,000 soldiers of the French Union expeditionary corps died or disappeared.

It also laid a Korea-like partition across the 42-mile waist of Viet Nam, Indochina's largest, richest and most populous state, about the 17th Parallel of latitude.

Communist leader Ho Chi Minh will take over the destinies of the residents north of the line. The 10 million Vietnamese below the partition will live under the pro-Western regime of chief of state Bao

Knowland Demands Atomic Bill Ballot

WASHINGTON, (AP)—Majority Leader Knowland (R-Calif.) called today for an around-the-clock session of the Senate, if necessary, to complete action on atomic legislation.

He punctuated his statement by directing the sergeant-at-arms to hand in coats from nearby cloakrooms and corridors for possible use.

"We're not going to have one or two votes. We're going to finish this bill if we have to stay all night to do it," Knowland said as the Senate began its eighth day of debate on the atomic bill.

Opponents of President Eisenhower's directive to the Atomic Energy Commission to sign a contract with a private utility group to supply power in the Tennessee Valley Authority area informally agreed to a test vote on this key issue at a meeting late last night.

But Sen. Gore (D-Tenn.) quarterback for this group, and Sen. Morse (Ind-Ore.) insisted they would prolong debate if they did not win the first round.

Knowland recessed the Senate last night after he received word of the understanding that a vote would come sometime today on the bill issue at controversy.

Faced with a showdown, Gore and other foes of the contract proposal combated Republican ranks for support. Gore conceded his forces needed that help.

President Eisenhower has instructed AEC to contract with a company known as the Dixon Yates Group for 600,000 kilowatts of electricity for the Memphis, Tenn., area. The service would make up for power supplied an atomic energy plant at Paducah, Ky., by the Tennessee Valley Authority.

Foes of the presidential order contend the deal would be illegal and an assault on the foundations of TVA, the government-operated agency which for years has furnished power in the valley region.

Demos Insist On Voice In Counsel Vote

WASHINGTON, (AP)—Sen. Jackson (D-Wash.) said today the Democrats "will insist" on a voice in choosing a successor to Roy M. Cohn as chief counsel of the Senate Investigations Subcommittee.

Chairman McCarthy (R-Wis.) yesterday accepted Cohn's resignation with avowed reluctance. He said this was the reason the subcommittee was pushing a showdown move to fire him.

Then, in closed meeting, the subcommittee unanimously confirmed in their jobs 22 other members of the staff, but withheld confirmation at least for the time being from another—former Secret Service Agent Thomas Lavenia, office manager and assistant counsel.

McCarthy confirmed officially that it was Lavenia and Lavenia to whom the Defense Department has refused to grant security clearance to handle secret documents. He said this was the reason the subcommittee, with his consent, had held up Lavenia's confirmation.

Fantastic Is Routine At Air Development Center

ALAMOGORDO, N. M. (AP)—The fantastic has become routine in little more than five years at Holloman Air Development Center.

Any week and every week rockets are shot 90 miles up into space, carrying incredibly complex electronic instruments to ask questions and get answers on what's what up there.

For instance, one mission of the last 20-foot Aerobee rocket whizzed upwards from the White Sands desert floor was checking wind velocity and direction in the upper atmosphere.

The rocket itself hurtles upward at supersonic speed—not very much less than a mile a second or 3,600 miles an hour.

Fruitful Decade In Church Service To Be Observed

There will be an open-house at the Central Baptist Church on Thursday, July 22 from 7 p. m. to 9 p. m. to commemorate the pastor's tenth anniversary with the Central Baptist Church.

Rev. and Mrs. C. Roger Johnson and daughter, Faith, came to Monroe to pastor the Central Baptist Church on July 15, 1944, and have been with this church for the past ten years. They have held previous pastorates in Nash, Okla., Swartz, La., Toga, La., and Pontiac, Mich.

During the past decade, the church has increased the value of its property from $9,000 to $130,000 with debt of $3,000 only remaining. There have been 1,335 additions—534 for baptism and 801 by letter. The present membership is approximately 750. The total offerings have been $261,614.60 with $35,934.84 allocated to missions. There are eight persons who have entered full-time Christian service.

The W. M. U. and its organizations are promoting this open-house for the pastor and family, and extend an invitation to the general public to come to the social room of the church on Thursday night between 7 p. m. and 9 p. m.

Telephone Co. Will Issue Debentures

The issuance of $55,000,000 principal amount of 35-year debentures has been authorized by the executive committee of Southern Bell Telephone and Telegraph Company's board of directors, according to H. H. Hudson, Monroe district manager of the company.

The steps taken to issue the new debentures were occasioned, Hudson said, by the need for capital funds to provide telephone facilities to meet the continuing strong demand for telephone service in the south.

Sale of these debentures will provide funds for telephone expansion throughout Southern Bell's nine-state area. Such funds are used by the company to construct buildings, provide lines and cables and install central office equipment. Money for these purposes, Hudson pointed out, must come from people who are willing to invest their savings with the company. The money telephone customers pay for service is used to meet day-by-day operating costs, like wages, taxes and maintenance. From the remainder, dividends and interest are paid to investors for the use of their dollars.

The debentures will be offered for sale at competitive bidding and it is expected that they will bear a date of September 1, 1954. The Fulton National Bank, of Atlanta, has been designated trustee of the new debenture issue.

Subject to the effective date of a registration statement to be filed with the securities and exchange commission, the company plans to extend invitations for bids on August 18, open bids on August 25 and if a bid is accepted settle with the purchasers on September 1.

The company was also authorized to retire its $30,000,000 twenty-four year 3 1/2 per cent debentures due in 1977. Mr. Hudson said this retirement would take place on or about October 4, 1954.

School Supts. Attend Luncheon For R. Heard

Raymond Heard, of Ruston, candidate for re-election to the state board of education from the third public service district, was guest at a luncheon here Tuesday attended by parish superintendents of education from the 14 parishes in the fifth congressional district and other distinguished personages.

Heard has been a member of the state board of education for the past six years. The third public service district which he represents is composed of the fourth, fifth and eighth congressional districts, which includes 28 parishes. At the present time he is serving his first term as president of the board.

During his visit here Tuesday Heard visited Northeast Louisiana State College which was made a four year school during his tenure of office. Along with superintendents from the 14 parishes, Heard appeared over a local television station and was a guest of former Gov. James A. Noe.

Superintendents in Monroe for the occasion were as follows: J. B. Thompson, Richland parish; T. L. Johnson, Caldwell; A. L. Brooks, Catahoula; J. S. Burris, Concordia; M. M. Walsworth, East Carroll; W. B. Glover, Franklin; J. D. Koonce, Jackson; Morelle Emmons, Lincoln; M. A. Phillips, Madison; S. G. Luckey, Morehouse; Van Odom, City of Monroe; V. C. Rives, Tensas; J. G. ## Search Underway For Missing Dog

A Greenville, Miss., man has asked police here by long distance telephone to continue a search for his German shepherd dog "Brandy" which leaped out of his automobile last week while he was passing through Monroe.

The man, George H. Vincent, reported the incident to police at the time, but so far nothing has been seen of the dog.

Vincent described the dog as being brown with white streaks, and as crippled in one leg. Anyone having any information about the dog is requested to call the police station here or 7670 in Greenville collect.

Roosevelt said his efforts to further the projects, still in the planning stage, were endorsed by City Slum Clearance Chairman Robert Moses, Rep. Jacob K. Javits and Sen. Irving M. Ives, all New York Republicans.

Of his efforts in behalf of the Manhattan town project, Roosevelt said: "This is the kind of thing congressmen should do for the welfare of their constituents. Neither I nor my law firm received any legal fee or other financial remuneration for services."

"I can say for my part that such smears as this will not deter one bit my efforts to obtain slum clearance and decent housing for the people of our city and state."

The newspaper account said the two proposed New York projects are being investigated by the Housing and Home Finance Agency and the Senate Banking Committee.

In Washington, members of the Banking Committee said there was no probe of slum clearance programs by that group, but an aide to Sen. Harry F. Byrd (D-Va.) said the Joint Committee on Reduction of Nonessential Expenditures is investigating several projects.

Deputy Sheriff Leaves For Ind.

Deputy Sheriff J. R. "Dick" Bell of the Ouachita Parish sheriff department left Wednesday morning for Fort Benjamin Harrison, Ind., to return a man wanted in Monroe for automobile theft. Bell will return later this week, Sheriff Bailey Grant said.

Sheriff Grant said the man wanted here is Willie G. Myers, 32. He has signed a waiver of extradition.

Myers was apprehended earlier this month, but refused to sign the waiver of extradition. Proceedings were begun shortly afterwards. Since then, however, the sheriff department was notified he had signed the waiver.

Occupied Germany and Austria hoped the removal of Indo-China from the top of the critical agenda would mean new international efforts to solve some of their problems.

West Europe's Communist press was unanimous.

Iron Curtain

Dal. All Vietnamese elections, not earlier than one year from today and not later than two years, are supposed to reunite the divided country. But Western officials here generally conceded the "temporary" partition line probably will become a political and ideological frontier like those which split Germany and Korea.

Officials said the texts of the agreements would not be published for several days, but their contents already were generally known. Civilians on either side of the partition line will have one year to move to the other side if they desire.

The French have the next 300 days to move out of the big northern cities of Hanoi and Haiphong. Until that day next May they will hold an enclave in the Red River Delta around those two major centers.

Cambodia and Laos will remain under their French-supported royal governments. Vietnamese troops which have invaded their territory have an estimated 10,000 in Laos, fewer in Cambodia — will withdraw in 60 days.

For military security reasons the date for the end of hostilities was not announced. One Vietnamese official said, however, that cease-fire orders would become effective in a week for the regular forces on both sides. Guerrilla fighters in the jungles and mountains would be given a longer period, he added.

The partition line across Viet Nam runs along the Song Ben Hai River. It leaves Highway No. 9, a principal road leading from the coast across the country to Laos, in the hands of southern Viet Nam. The south also retains the major port of Tourane and ex-emperor Bao Dai's royal capital, Hue, both in central Viet Nam.

Cambodia did not join in the early-morning armistice ceremony because of a last-minute burst of independence on the part of her delegation. Cambodian Foreign Minister Tep Phan demanded until nearly 2 a. m. that his nation's courts be permitted to try Communist sympathizers for working with the Vietnamese invaders.

He agreed to drop the demand after the issue was ironed out in a long session with Mendes-France, Soviet Foreign Minister V. M. Molotov and British Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden.

The armistices for Viet Nam and Laos cover the area where most of the Indo-China battling took place. There was little fighting in Cambodia.

During the 300 more days the French hold Hanoi and Haiphong, the Vietminh will hold five pockets south of the partition line. Then they must pull out for the north. Neither side may bring in troops or war material, and no new military bases can be set up on either side of the line.

This prohibition applies particularly to any bases for the Southeast Asia Treaty Organization (SEATO), which the United States and Britain are preparing to check any future Communist aggression in this area.

However, the organization, once formed, is expected to bring southern Viet Nam, Cambodia and Laos under its protective wing.

nist aggression in that general area."

A reporter asked what significance the President attached to the fact that, for just about the first time in 20 years, there isn't a war going on somewhere in the world.

Thoughtfully, Eisenhower said he never has felt that—except for satellite excursions—the Communist world wants war with the West at this time.

seemed to speak for many others of his countrymen: "Good. Maybe now I can get out of the army and return to civilian life."

Frenchmen appeared even more relieved.

"We've had enough," said one Saigon businessman. "Either the United States decided to enter the war with her atomic weapons or else there had to be a cease-fire. 'You didn't want to become involved so there was nothing else to do. After all, you fought only three years in Korea and gave up, so you cannot blame us for wanting peace after eight.'" number of friendly governments and reports today were that it had been substantially agreed upon.

The United States and Britain, however, are still divided over the timing of actual formation. Authorities estimate it will be many months before the projected defense system can be set up. The United States would have preferred quicker action but Britain is anxious to hold the cooperation of India to the fullest extent possible and consequently has been moving cautiously.

American officials studying the Indo-China settlement signed today said privately its impact will reach far beyond Southeast Asia and probably will be felt throughout the whole range of relations between the Communist and non-Communist blocs.

Lombard also is a Roman Catholic priest. He was last reported waiting at Ichang for permission to leave Red China.

Lombard's home address and the home towns of the others were not available.

American officials here notified the Peiping regime that 15 Chinese students now in the United States, who have been detained, have now been told they are free to go.

The announcement said: "The cases of other Chinese students deciding to leave the United States for Communist China are still under review. Any information concerning them will be considered as soon as it is received."

Alfred Jenkins, a member of the U.S. delegation at Geneva, carried on the negotiations for release of the Americans with a member of the Chinese Communist delegation, Pu Shan.

Jenkins expressed the hope, in talks with Pu Shan, that the other detained Americans will be released shortly.

American officials said that in addition to the six persons to be released and the 24 other civilians still detained, there are many military personnel held in Red China.

We must not regard our ability to retaliate with atomic bombs as a substitute for a balanced military force.

'Picket' Lines To Guard U. S. Shores Against Attack

By JAMES C. ANDERSON
SACRAMENTO, Calif., July 21—UP—The U. S. Air Force is establishing a "picketline" of airplanes to guard our shores against attack. Electronic eyes are giving the nation a precious extra hour to prepare.

Aerial picket planes, traveling at nearly 300 miles an hour and operating far offshore, will detect enemy bombers — if and when they come — long before the nation's network of ground radar installations can pick them up.

The Air Force hopes the radar planes will be able to alert land-based jet interceptors to meet the challenge before enemy aircraft ever reach the U. S. coastline.

A closely guarded development of aerial radar stations is under way on a top-priority basis at McClellan Air Force Base where the USAF is organizing several squadrons of radar planes to patrol both West and East coasts 24 hours a day.

The Air Force Early Warning and Control Division (AEW) has another mission, according to its commander, Col. Kenneth H. Gibson.

"What we're trying to do is supplement fixed radar defenses," Gibson said. "Radar in concrete is not enough in the jet age."

"We must assume the enemy knows where our ground radar posts are," he added. "And we must also assume they know the best ways to avoid them."

"But with our radar planes, we have mobility. We can shift them around, at 300 miles an hour and the enemy can't know where they are."

It is obvious, too, that the Air Force believes the radar planes will give Gen. Curtis Lemay's Strategic Air Command (SAC) atomic bombers an earlier tipoff of the enemy assault. SAC thus would gain precious time to disperse its bombers from target areas or launch a speedy retaliatory blow from SAC bases scattered all over the world.

New Era Started For France With Dynamic Leader

By EDWARD M. KERRY
PARIS, July 21 — UP — Signing of a cease-fire in Indo-China started a new era Wednesday for France which at last has found a do-something leader in Premier Pierre Mendes-France.

The agreement to end the ruinous war 8,000 miles from home was greeted with almost universal satisfaction. The French felt it was done without losing honor or cutting the bonds of friendship with the United States.

Mendes-France, a man without a political machine and virtually unknown outside France as recently as a year ago, accomplished in 30 days what 19 previous postwar premiers had failed to do.

The grumbling that could be heard came from supporters of the last government, headed by former Premier Joseph Laniel.

They complained that Mendes-France only concluded a settlement for which they already had traced the outlines and that in doing so he had "gone too far."

Little stock was placed in the utterances of the dissidents, specially in view of Washington's decision to ride along with Mendes-France.

But the grumblings indicated Mendes-France would have to overcome dangerous opposition in the national assembly next month when he hopes to win adoption of his North African, economic and European army policies, in that order, by the deputies.

Mendes-France made North Africa his net target because, with the Indo-China war over, terrorism in Tunisia and Morocco will possibly become the world's new No. 1 trouble spot.

North Africa always has been Mendes-France's private preoccupation, however, and sources close to his office said he would spell out his program on the French protectorates there within 48 hours after returning from Geneva.

Famous Mouton Twins Will Be Year Old Thursday

LAFAYETTE, La. (AP) — Louisiana's famed Mouton twins, born as Siamese twins but separated by rare surgery a month later, will be a year old tomorrow.

Both are healthy, active children, though one must undergo another operation this fall.

Brown-eyed, dark-haired Carolyn Anne and Catherine Anne were born joined together at the base of the spine last July 22. On Sept. 17 they were separated at Oschner Hospital in New Orleans in what is believed to be the first successful separation of this type.

They are the daughters of Mayor and Mrs. Ashton Mouton of Lafayette, in south Louisiana.

Catherine has undergone five operations—all that are needed. Carolyn, however, faces a visit to the operating room in a few months.

Surgeons are hopeful that both will be "completely normal." The problem with Carolyn is to give her a normally functioning lower intestine, but doctors are quick to point out that many persons, in-

Why Did France Lose Asian War?

PARIS, July 21—UP—Why didn't France win the Indo-China war? Why couldn't a world power, backed by more than $2.5 billion in American aid, beat a rebel Communist army that started with numerical inferiority and poor arms?

Too little and too late sums it up, French military experts say. France never was ready to make total war — militarily or politically — to beat the Viet Minh in eight years.

And the Viet Nameese, seeing nothing but hesitation from Paris and failing to get satisfaction on demands for independence, never threw themselves wholeheartedly into the struggle. Millions preferred to sit on the fence until it became clear which side would win.

From the military viewpoint, according to French experts, successive French administrations saw too late that classical European warfare tactics must be adapted to large-scale fluid guerrilla fighting, without fixed front lines.

Until recent tightening of French lines, the 260,000-man French expeditionary corps was spread over a territory as big as Texas—1.3 times larger than France.

Everything the French wanted to keep had to be guarded day and night. Areas they controlled by day belonged to the Communists after dark. Peasants who toiled to rebuild blasted roads under the French crept back at night and dynamited them anew under Viet Minh threats.

Every bridge, every port, every village, every railroad, every highway the French wanted to secure only frittered away their manpower for offensive drives. Each time scores of little posts needed relief or supplies, a major military operation was necessary to punch through guerrilla ambushes.

French airpower — always weak despite U. S. aid — was consumed in making air drops to isolated garrisons instead of keeping Viet Minh supply routes to China cut, or making large raids against en-cluding athletes, live normal lives with intestinal bypasses.

When the twins were born, their lower intestinal tract was joined; they also were fused at the fourth sacral vertebrae.

They weighed 11 pounds, 8 ounces at birth. Now Carolyn weighs 23 pounds and Catherine 18. Hospital attendants say both are in "perfect health."

The Moutons have two other children, Ashton Jr., 6, and Stella Rose, 9. They plan a quiet birthday for the twins tomorrow.

When the French did get up a big operation, word of it generally leaked to the enemy.

The Communists, with little to defend, could choose their territory.

All the time, Red China was pouring in increasing supplies—now running at an estimated 6,000 tons a month. The Viet Minh soldier who fought five years ago with a musket could now command columns of Molotov trucks, 10-barreled "Stalin Organ" rocket-launchers, big guns and 120-MM mortars, or radar-controlled anti-aircraft artillery.

The Chinese sent in advisers. They trained rebel troops in camps across the Chinese border.

The war was unpopular. Politicians tried to sweep it under the rug and forget about it. They passed a law barring draftees from being sent to combat zones. Generals were ordered to "save the casualties" when attacking.

Communists and the large left-wing vote trumpeted that it was a "colonial" squabble which would only benefit big business and munitions-makers. No one bothered to explain clearly that the "colonial" phase ended in 1949 when France started making home-rule promises culminating in this year's Vietnam independence agreements.

Public authorities must therefore carry out their activities with firmness and independence, both to safeguard the liberty of the citizen and... to serve the common welfare."

He noted that democracy imposes important burdens on the citizen, and said Catholics "play their part of responsibility in the present turmoil of society."

He called on members of his church to take the lead in combating such evils as "abstention (from voting) in elections of grave consequences... fiscal (tax evasion)... stolen criticism of the authorities and egoistic defense of privileges against the general interest."

Pope Seeks Firm Stand Against Red Pressures

VATICAN CITY, July 21—UP—Pope Pius XII said Tuesday democratic authorities should deal firmly with pressure groups, especially Communist-run organizations which "compromise the liberty of those they pretend to serve."

In a message to a Catholic convention in France, the pontiff said democratic governments must resist "twin temptations waiting in ambush" — the temptation to try to keep everybody happy through well-meant weakness and the temptation to seize all power.

"The mission of the state... is to control, aid and organize the private individual activities of national life so they will converge in harmony toward the common welfare," the Pope said.

In a democracy, he added, this mission may be threatened by business, professional or labor groups so strong they "burden the government and life of a nation" or by individuals who dodge taxes, fail to vote, criticize destructively or defend special interests.

The 2,500-word message spoke sharply of organizations which "cross national boundaries" — an apparent reference to Communist-run labor federations in France, Italy and elsewhere.

"These organizations maintain in the country a harmful state of tension, paralyzing the work of the political authority and compromising the liberty of those they pretend to serve," the Pope said.

"Public authorities must therefore carry out their activities with firmness and independence, both to safeguard the liberty of the citizen and... to serve the common welfare."

He noted that democracy imposes important burdens on the citizen, and said Catholics "play their part of responsibility in the present turmoil of society."

Police Rule Out Cab Driver Tip

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind. (AP)—Police were left without a good lead today after they ruled out a taxicab driver's identification in their search for the killer of 18-year-old Dorothy Poore.

The driver, Wesley B. Rivin, had picked a photograph from hundreds at the police identification bureau and said it was the "woman-crazy" man he drove to the Claypool Hotel Thursday.

Irvin's fare gave his name as O'Shea. The last occupant of the room in which the Clinton High School graduate's body was found Sunday registered as Jack O'Shea.

Police picked up the man, whose picture Irvin and two hotel employees identified, but they released him after questioning when they learned he had been out of town.

What Will The Answer Be?

The time: — well, time will be irrelevant—just say, "sometime in the possible future."

The place: somewhere on the Western side of the Mississippi River.

It is late at night and the border guards along the American held side of the river are eyeing the muddy waters with apprehensive glances.

Suddenly, there is a commotion. Engines roar and there are shots from the opposite shore. There is a scream. The guards finger their carbines with uneasiness. One thing is certain, another escape.—Another escape to the Western shore and freedom.

What does this mean? To what does it refer? It is the graphic story of stark terror and misery under the heel of the oppressor. It is the story of how half a nation lost its freedom and how the other half must live in constant danger and fear of destruction. It is the story of how a sleepy, non-believing people refused to awaken in time for an understanding of the perils at hand. Do you remember back in the good old days when everybody made a habit of being "anti-anti-Communist?" When a man who opposed the Communists was termed a "hysterical idiot."

Do you remember how, when it came time for the people to vote, few of them bothered to go to the polls? Hasn't been too long ago, has it?

Think about it, only a few short years since the United States was a peace-loving nation, the leader in the fight against the Marxists. People, just ordinary folks like you and the neighbors next door thought that Communists were "just a little political party" and could really hurt nobody. Others thought their lives were secure, secure in the knowledge that the F.B.I. knew where every Communist was.

The Socialists? Ha, they were harmless; just "idealistic dreamers." The first real shock came when a Socialist was elected Governor of New York. Everybody thought he was too far to the left, but still, there was no real choice and the Socialist was the most popular candidate. Few Republicans bothered to go to the polls because they felt that their man had let them down. The Socialist was elected. His aggregation of the left leaguers, Socialists and other assorted Marxists converted the "Empire State" into the first real Socialist state in the nation.

Still, there was "no cause" for alarm. Tremors were politically felt when first, Pennsylvania then, Connecticut elected like candidates. This was followed by a leftward sweep in Massachusetts, Rhode Island and Delaware. Finally, there were six eastern states under Marxist political leadership.

The Communists decided to strike. Taking the reins of the state governments, establishing themselves in authority at Federal posts, and putting their states under "martial law," the "People's Democratic Republic of America" was formed. This militant organization was almost immediately attacked by the remainder of the states as being unconstitutional and against the better interests of the nation.

Grantland Rice Was His Friend

I can't quite write about Grantland Rice's death yet.

He meant too much to me.

Two years ago I tried to say how I felt about him in a book, and here is part of it, and I only wish I could have said it better.

"All I ask in the way of an epitaph is 'He was a friend of Grantland Rice and Grantland Rice was his friend.'"

"That'll square me in the eyes of most men who lived in the twentieth century."

"I don't feel this way all by myself. I have the company of countless thousands of Americans, ranging from former presidents of the United States to sellers of tout sheets outside race tracks."

"It isn't easy to write about Grantland. One is apt to get all bogged down in sentiment and wind up having his readers picture him as Gene Buck once described him, 'a knight whose plumes have never brushed the ground.'"

"That is true, but I like much better the way George M. Cohan once introduced Grantland. He called him a 'virile saint.'"

"That's what he is."

"An angel with a racing form tucked under his wings, if you please. An archangel who knows the danger of going for a hard-way eight on the crap table, and the pitfalls that await those who believe they have a system that'll beat roulette."

"I am positive that every sports-writer in America should contribute a nominal sum to build Grantland a monument. It was he, more than any other, who lifted us sports-writers (I still am one at heart) from the saloon to the drawing room. And I'll bet there isn't a sports-writer who doesn't agree with me."

"Just about the best way to assay a man is to find out what his fellow workers think of him. The business of writing a sports column is highly competitive, and a good deal of throat cutting is done. But not Grantland's throat.

"Ask Frankie Graham. Ask Red Smith. Ask Dan Parker. Ask Warren Brown. Ask Harry Salsinger. Ask Paul Zimmerman or Brecken Dyer. Ask Arch Ward. Ask See Taylor. Ask Ned Cronin. Ask me. And they'll gladly tell you that Grantland stands alone."

"While you are asking, talk to Pete Jones of Cities Service, and he'll tell you Rice is a man apart. Niles Trammell of NBC will tell you the same thing. So will Toots Shor, Gene Fowler, Sherman Billingsley, Walter Winchell, Bill Diekey, and the redcaps at Grand Central and the Pennsy."

"The man from Murfreesboro, Tennessee, walks in the footsteps of Robert Edward Lee, and the footprint's aren't much too large."

"If I could tell only one story about Grantland it would deal with his return from World War I. When he left for France he turned over every penny he had to the man he considered his best friend, with instructions to give Kate, his wife, so much a month and invest the remainder. When he came back after serving in the artillery, he was met by a weeping Kate at the dock."

"The money was all gone. The supposed best friend had swindled it and shot himself that morning. Everyone who knew Grantland was very bitter. I'll have to quote Kate now because I wasn't there, but according to her, Grantland said, 'Kitten, we still have one another, and I'm right healthy.'"

"The first thing Grantland did when he got home was call the widow and tell her that he was back and

As such, preparations for military occupation were begun.

It was then that the Communists decided to "play it smart." They offered to hold a "legitimate vote" in their areas. The vote was held, rigged though it was, and the contest won by the Marxists. Still, many American people thought that these were "Socialists, attempting a new utopia." The Constitution—"why, it's being modernized to meet the needs of the times." The votes being "rigged." "Who could prove it?"

Not enough people went to the polls, anyway.

So, the new "Republic within a Republic" was "formed." Its agents swarmed into other nearby states. There were sweeping changes. Finally, reports indicated that other states were ready to fall into the trap. Armed by the Soviet Union, the "Republic" demanded separate recognition and the inclusion of all states East of the Mississippi.

Do you remember those impossible days?

Of course, you don't because they have never happened. With God's help, they never will happen.

But—don't sit back and say, "impossible" because exactly the same thing has happened to other nations. The exact thing has happened recently to Indo-China. All because of a lackadaisical attitude on the part of the people.

The Lord only helps those who help themselves and the American people are no exception to the rule. Freedom to talk, to act and to take part in the affairs of one's government is not a majority force in the world. It is in the small, the terribly small minority. It is not to be taken for granted because it will be lost.

One must work constantly at preserving the freedoms gained over so long a period of time. It is hard to remember a time when the freedoms of this nation were ever in such danger. There never was a time when the American people needed to guard those freedoms more than today.

Fellow citizens, the task is yours.

On July 27th, there will be an election in this state. It will actually be a Democrat primary to nominate a candidate for the U. S. Senate and other offices within the Democrat party framework. Because this state is largely a Democrat state, the nomination is tantamount to election.

Because of that, it is vital that you go and vote for the candidate for nomination of your choice. If you should fail, and that candidate (the one you prefer) loses, don't blame anybody but yourself.

Every election is another link forged in the chainmail of Freedom's armor. Every election well attended is a blow at the enemies of freedom. The United States can lose those freedoms from the inside. Don't be a helper of those who would destroy the nation, vote in this and all elections. Don't be responsible for the loss of the nation.

Don't be the one responsible for a necessary "escape" as depicted for the future. The elections on the 27th are important.

New Frontier

WASHINGTON, July 21 — Industrial uses of by-products of the atomic energy program, primarily various forms of radioisotopes, are developing to the point where they now save American industry some $100,000,000 annually and in 10 years will be saving it 10 times that amount.

Members of the Atomic Energy Commission, who view the fast-developing picture of industrial use of atomic energy from the vantage point of the inside-looking-out, anticipate $1,000,000,000 a year savings to American industry. This is entirely separate and apart from the widely publicized potentialities of atomic energy in generating electrical energy, to say nothing of its incalculable wartime value in devastating A- and H-bombs.

The contemplated uses are in widely diversified fields: testing the qualities of metals, regulating the flow of different types of petroleum products through pipelines, preserving fresh food products and other processes too numerous to list.

"I really believe that in applying atomic energy to industry, to medicine and to agriculture, we are on the threshold of a new frontier," says AEC Commissioner Joseph Campbell in an address prepared for delivery this evening (July 21) at Rutgers University in New Brunswick, N. J.

One of the uses which the AEC believes has the greatest potential is radiographic inspection of mechanical parts with the radioisotopes "Cobalt 60." For instance, although this is not specifically cited by Campbell, the AEC believes such periodic inspections would have resulted in the ships being grounded ere they exploded in the stratosphere with heavy fatalities.

At the risk of over-simplification, the process is simply that the metal to be inspected is run between a tiny capsule of cobalt-60 on one side and a photographic plate on the other. Any defects in the metal will show up on the plate.

Use of radium or X-ray machines for such inspections long has been known to industry, but has been too expensive for general use.

"For fifty dollars," says Campbell, "an industrial concern can buy an amount of cobalt-60 which corresponds in effect to a similar amount of radium worth $25,000. Furthermore, cobalt-60 can be manufactured by Atomic Energy Commission contractors in unlimited quantities, depending upon the market which is now available or which will be developed in the future."

The American Society of Mechanical Engineers recognizes the worth of such metals inspections to the extent that its code permits use of 12 per cent thinner boiler plate on so-called "pressure vessels"—tanks, vats, boilers, and other containers built specifically to withstand internal pressure — if the vehicle is radio-graphically inspected, than without it.

Campbell points out that there are in use in this country several thousand so-called "Horton spheres"—fifty-foot steel spheres for storage of gasses under high pressure. Allowance of a 12 per cent thinner plate, he says, would save about $6,000 on each sphere.

"The perfection of this technique," says Campbell, "is no better illustrated than in the recently completed atomic submarine, 'Nautilus.' The specifications for the welding in that ship required that the maximum leakage from any pipe be limited to one drop in 500 years. Only with radiographic inspection could such an extraordinary standard be achieved."

He cites detection of leaks in water systems, uniform mixing of paints, so-called acidizing of oil wells to enable their constant flow, and even the testing of items such as home washing machines and detergents, as included among the other growing industrial uses of radioisotopes.

Experimental work in the field of medicine has been widely publicized. Processes now being perfected are expected to save millions of dollars annually by preventing spoilage of food.

If the world can find some way of preventing the devastating holocaust of World War III, mankind's net benefit from the discovery of atomic energy will be substantial.

HAL BOYLE

Summer In The Country

Boyle, a city feller who thinks poison ivy is just a nickname for a girl gossip, wrote a piece claiming that a New York apartment is the coolest and safest place to spend the summer. Today we present a grass roots rebuttal by a nature-loving fellow newspaperman of the Adrian, Mich., Telegram.

By W. S. STEWART

ADRIAN, Mich. (AP)—Dear Hal: The best place to spend the summer is in the country.

Let a friend of mine explain why:

"We have the finest air conditioning anywhere. There's no service charge, installation fee or scraping for payments. You don't have to remember to turn it on or off. It runs all the time and never adds a cent to the electric bill. The soft breeze which ripples gently across the pine-encircled lake dances sweetly through the open door with Mother Nature paying the entire shot.

"Neighbors don't bother us. Our 'bullfrog-echoing' dale in the wilderness is completely our own. Not even moon-eyed lovers dare the winding trail to steal a few moments alone.

"The boring neighbors don't drop over any more. We have an unwritten understanding about our lot lines—dating from the day his cat slapped a curious paw into the hide of our sleeping dog.

"Our days aren't spent looking at four walls. There's too much open space in northern Michigan's water wonderland—too many beauties of the Lord—to waste the hours getting into each other's way.

"We take hikes: we sail the rolling waters. We troll slowly through the still pools, hauling in many tasty samples for the fryin' pan.

"And we swim. Oh, how we swim. A cool deep into the crystal clear freshness of sweet spring water is much more to our dreams than a hasty wash in a tub of lukewarm chlorine-reeking H<sub>2</sub>O.

"We sleep the nights of pure physical exhaustion. No neighbors come stumbling home minutes before dawn offering a harmonious rendition of 'Let Me Call—'. The clash of gears, roar of V8 horses and scream of burning rubber don't disturb our reveries.

"Famished from the fun of outdoors, we eat unbelievable quantities of picnics, brunches and in-betweens. But the wife finds it's not the same old tiring grind. Our ever-man-for-himself rule gets the family meals cooked and the dishes cleaned without padlocking her to a stove.

"Now the nights—those pure delights of peace.

"The moon sliding softly from under the titling pines soon bathes the scene in golden charm like a giant candle. Flickering fires around the shore fade away as if ashamed of their own effort in the face of her glory. A bass breaks the stillness with a somersault high above the water. Another ballets its way across the waves in answer. Somewhere a loon makes his presence known. The night lives on.

"You can have your man-made luxuries. Nature is still so far ahead there is no match in comparison.

"The best place to spend the summer is in the country."

That's exactly what the man said—honest, Hal.

Editor's Note: Well, Boyle, now what have you got to say in favor of the city?

WESTBROOK PEGLER

First-Class Expose

NEW YORK, July 21 — Jack Lait, the radio-TV editor of the Los Angeles Examiner, has done a first-class expose of the so-called George Foster Peabody award, a decoration which is passed around among savants of a certain political slant by a jury of the same slant. Lait's curiosity was aroused when he learned that Edward R. Murrow, who pontificates for the Aluminum Corporation of America had received a "completely gratuitous and unprecedented special award just for 'being himself'."

"This," Mr. Lait wrote, "was evidently their coy way of expressing their delight with Murrow's blast against Senator McCarthy."

There are probably a hundred of these things in circulation these days, including the Heywood Brown and Ray Clapper awards and others hatched up by the thing called Freedom House which is a continuation of the old committee to defend America by aiding the allies, and kindred fronts. Incidentally, this Murrow, who sponsored a "seminar" or pilgrimage of American college students to Moscow and elsewhere in the workers' paradise, in 1933, 1934 and 1935, has just been picked "unanimously" for a "freedom award" by Freedom House, by the board of directors.

Mr. Lait's facts are fascinating of themselves and I will take the liberty of lifting some of them for a second instalment of this piece tomorrow. But for now I think it would interest you, and Mr. Lait, to know that this Peabody, who was born in 1852 and died in 1938, was the one who sold Warm Springs to Franklin D. Roosevelt and put him on a spot so that he had to pay up. Peabody did this by donating to several charities $435,000 in serial notes given him by Roosevelt in payment for the land, the spring, an old rickety hotel and some rental cottages. As these notes fell due the charities which held them put the bite on mama's boy Franklin and Franklin put the bite on mama.

Later on, as you may remember, John J. Raskob had to promise Franklin an outright personal gift of $250,000 to pay Mama back part of her investment.

There was a bribe to get him to run for governor of New York in 1928 when Al Smith was running for president against Hoover. Raskob was against prohibition and he figured that Roosevelt with that name could carry New York for Smith for president who would then shove through the repeal of the 18th amendment. Things fell out otherwise, but we needn't go into that.

When Roosevelt came to New York later, he told Raskob there was no reason why he should put up the entire amount, and gave him back his check for $250,000. Raskob then gave him $50,000 in his own name and $50,000 on behalf of his children. William Woodin was brought into the deal to be financial secretary of the Warm Springs Foundation, and Woodin became the secretary of the treasury in 1934, when Roosevelt became president. He died soon after that and Henry Morgenthau stepped in. Long afterward, during the war, Raskob and Smith, who had offices in the Empire State building, discussed the deal quite frankly and Smith said he understood that the $250,000, which included Raskob's $100,000, was paid by Roosevelt to his mother.

Peabody probably never dreamed that his name would be used as it is being used in connection with this radio-TV "award." He was a regular deep-south Democrat of the old state's right type who had made a great fortune in New York. He was attached to Woodrow Wilson, but there is nothing that indicates that he would have approved the work of individuals who attack people who attack communists in the army and elsewhere in the government of the United States. He may have exercised only normal prudence in making Roosevelt come through with the serial notes, but on the other hand he may have had his suspicions because both he and Franklin were in Washington in the first war.

After Roosevelt had sold his purchase to the Warm Springs Foundation, taking the foundation's notes in return, the foundation was just limping along and Roosevelt wanted to give it a boost as a great philanthropy which of course it was not. So Henry L. Doherty, the public utilities magnate, for reasons which were rather openly surmised but never proved, was spotted as a sucker to put up the fall money for the big campaign.

Doherty put up $60,000 and Carl Byoir, his public relations counsel, swung into action with a mighty surge. Byoir organized thousands of "birthday balls" all over the country and there was just no telling how much the total kitty came to either in 1934, the first year, or later. Some of the unions horned in to run birthday balls and although old Matt Woll, in general supervisory charge, was trustworthy, the notorious character of the average unioner did not inspire confidence. Press agents latched on all over the place and anyone with the creative cynicism to propose an accounting was a fascist beast.

Peabody, himself, seems not to have thought much of Warm Springs. To him it was just a piece of property with a non-medical spring of warm water, trapped in a concrete pool.

Whether Roosevelt transferred the whole piece to the foundation or clipped off some for direct sale to ambitious Democrats, a number of whom built homes there, is one of the many mysteries. It is an established fact however that he did sell one building lot for $1,000 March 9, 1929, and that the conveyance contains a clause as follows: "Neither the land nor any part thereof shall be sold, rented or otherwise disposed of to any Negro or other persons of African descent or to a corporation or association owned or controlled by Negroes."

Junior's Tool Kit

NEW YORK — Log of a Thought

Peddler: I rather imagine that as long as movies are filmed, the producer will remain the subject of improbable gags. Like the one about the bigwig who was a perfect carbon copy of the film boss as pictured in cartoons.

He drove associates to distraction with his illusions of infallibility. One day junior summoned enough courage to Query: "Tell me something, J. T., surely you haven't always been right?" He waited for the bomb to go off but heard with surprise: "Why, no. There was ONE time when I WAS wrong."

"When was that, sir?"

"Once I thought I was wrong when I wasn't."

It was on a sultry evening aboard a commuter train outward bound from New York that a youngish father played the hero's role. The woman in the seat ahead of him tried to open the window. To no one's surprise it wouldn't budge.

The man stepped forward and tried his muscles, but to no avail. But he wasn't thwarted. Unwrapping a package on his seat he extracted a small claw hammer and with it lifted the window. He also loaned it to several other passengers, with gratifying results. To murmurs of approval he sat down with the satisfaction of a job well done, having first rewrapped the package on the seat. It was a junior-size tool kit for the family heir at home.

Helen Keller's new film biography, "The Unconquered," is an inspiring account packed full of revealing incidents and splendidly narrated by Katharine Cornell. It runs less than an hour, short by Hollywood standards. I had forgotten that Miss Keller once shocked the more conservative of another era by making a 2-year tour of the vaudeville circuit. She has also done untold good through her lectures in almost every nation on earth.

Her constant companion and friend, Polly Thompson, said during an interview last year that she carried on an unending struggle to prevent Miss Keller from overworking herself. Aneut this, one of the lighter scenes in the film shows Miss Keller retiring for the night at her Connecticut home.

Miss Thompson says goodnight, flicks off the light and leaves. The film shows Miss Keller instantly retrieving a book she had been reading in Braille. She continues to read—in the dark and without her companion's knowledge.

Casual shoppers at sporting goods shops are often surprised to find the letters U. S. S. R. stamped on the squash balls. But there's no cause for alarm. They stand for 'United States Squash Racquets,' a game association much older than the Soviet Union.

That Bobby Burns once saved a man from drowning was news to me. But he is supposed to have accomplished the feat at considerable risk to his own life. Safely ashore, the man, a well-known wealthy "millionaire" of the town, murmured barely audible thanks and placed in Burns' hand only a small coin. One indignant onlooker stepped forward belligerently, but Burns halted him. "Leave him alone," he said softly. "After all, he is the best judge of the value of his own life!"

Day Camp Doin's

A million thanks to the mothers and uncles and grandmothers who, on practically no notice at all, helped with the transportation Monday, through some misunderstanding, the bus driver thought there was to be no camp Monday and failed to show up. A grownup at each stop got on the phone and saw to it that every one of the sixty campers got to Pine Wood and back again in the afternoon. Things can't run smoothly all the time, we suppose, and all's well that ends well.

After a day of all-camp activities, every unit was anxious to get back to its own unfinished business, the girls realizing that they had only four days left of the camp season.

Two photographers took pictures in every unit, look for the results in Sunday's paper, and in the camp scrapbook.

The Gypsies had their second cook out. Doesn't stew made in a kettle over an outdoor fire sound like real Gypsies? This was the old favorite, campfire stew, which everyone enjoyed. This unit has been working on the Tree badge throughout the camp season. Yesterday the girls learned the Conservation pledge, went on a hike to collect leaves of the fifteen trees each girl is learning to identify, and started making blueprints to record them.

The girls brought back some enormous mulberry leaves, each more than a foot long. From the tree book they learned that young trees have the largest leaves.

Thr Brownies, or Woodchucks, discovered the fun of making blueprints. They aren't working on any badges, of course, but are getting a start on all kinds of simple outdoor activities. Before long, there was a whole row of pretty blueprints drying on the group. Mrs. Bedenbaugh and Mrs. Groves helped in the Brownie unit Monday. We hope they liked camp well enough to come back.

The Ramblers lashed one of the neatest, sturdiest tables we've ever seen. According to their leaders, these are the "workingest girls." Anxious to try some type of cooking they haven't done before, the girls have about decided on a bean hole. Now if they can just get a cloudy day for the digging the hole!

Campers were disappointed to find that Pine Wood received only a light sprinkle of rain Sunday. They're still hoping, surely there won't be such a thing as day camp without rain!

With everybody getting in to camp at a different time, camp council didn't have a chance to meet and decide on the matter of whether to change the last day's schedule to allow visitors to come in the late afternoon.

Forty-four of the 47 cases of game violations reported to the acting chief of the law enforcement division, Louisiana wildlife and fisheries commission, were for fish law violations. The other three were for hunting and killing snails out of season, John L. McGee, acting chief, has announced.

Violations and fines in the Monroe area were as follows:

Catahoula: Three people from Chicago, Illinois were convicted and fined $12.50 each plus court costs by Justice Tal C. Gibson, at Jonesville, for angling without a non-resident license. They were Aldrich Scott, Nona Durham, and Moses Wither. Rangers Allen D. Swazey and Cecil McGuffie arrested the trio. Justice Gibson also fined Jack Rutledge and Jack P. Stults, of Richardson, Texas, $25 each and costs for taking game fish illegally. Rangers led by Capt. Hartwell Love made the arrests.

Grant: At Pollock, Justice Drew Bandy fined the following four couple $12.50 each for angling without a license: Victor Grosjean, Bossier City; Mrs. Quincy Ford, Pineville; Woodrow Dewitt, Alexandria; and Grover Gibbs, Bossier City. Charles Zimmerman, Kansas City, Mo., and Kelly Rhodes, Memphis, Tenn., were also fined $12.50 for angling without a non-resident license. James Breland Trout, was fined $12.50 for fishing commercially without a commercial fishing license. Rangers Edgar Shipp and Wesley Slay made the arrests.

Union: At Halle, Justice J. O. Brown fined Dan Johnson, Pampa, Texas, $12.50 and court costs for fishing without a non-residence license. Ranger Norman Pace made the arrest.

Winn: At Cross Road, Justice Watson Speaks fined Luther Koon, Seagoville, Texas, and Carl Weber, Grand Prairie, Texas, $12.50 each for angling without non-resident licenses. Ranger Victor L. Raborn made the arrests.

Varied Support Given For Penal Installation

Representatives of labor as well as business circles are favoring the establishment of a state correctional institution for first offenders in Ouachita parish, Tuesday night two labor organizations and one business group joined three others in endorsing the move.

The latest to join in the proposal of the institution were International Union of Operating Engineers, Local 406, Plumbers and Steamfitters Union, Local 659, and the West Monroe Business Association. Earlier the Ouachita Parish Police Jury, Monroe - West Monroe Junior Chamber of Commerce and the Monroe Central Trades and Labor Council had passed resolutions favoring the establishment in this parish.

Last night members of the International Union of Operating Engineers, Local 406, voted unanimously to support the proposal made last Friday by the Ouachita Parish Police Jury.

A. W. Melder, president of the local union, explained that the group took the action after noting the "apathy on the part of the public" in this question, and said the members will take an active part in soliciting the institution for this city.

J. P. Brady, spokesman for the Plumbers and Steamfitters local union 659, also reported last night that the union's executive board has gone on record favoring the proposal.

The issue, born of the recent legislative approval for such an institution, brought stout opposition from Iberville and Lincoln Parish citizens when their sections were considered for the site. Monroe's bid came immediately following a Federal ban on the use of land near Ruston.

Late last night the Board of Directors of the West Monroe Businessmen's Association was reported in session to draw up a resolution favoring the proposal. According to reports, members of the Association had previously voiced their verbal approval of such a resolution.

Sheriff Bailey Grant, who with District Attorney Fred Fudick attended a regular meeting of the state board of institutions in Baton Rouge yesterday, explained that the proposed penal colony will be a correctional type institution. He related that members of the board of institutions explained that no inmates would be sent directly from the parish or city jails to the new institutions. Instead, they would be first sent to Angola, where they would be screened and classified before being transferred to the correctional institution.

Grant explained that the purpose of attending yesterday's meeting was to learn as much as possible about the proposed institution, so that the residents of Ouachita Parish could be informed of the facts, rather than being asked to accept such an institution "blindly".

He pointed out that the proposed institution would comprise 500 acres, and would house 250 inmates to begin with, but which could be expanded to house a maximum of 500. Approximately $1,500,000 would be spent in building and equipping the institution. A staff of about 125 persons would be employed.

Early estimates placed the annual payroll in the vicinity of $250,000.

Sheriff Grant said the state board of institutions is hoping to locate the colony in the vicinity of a state college, where facilities and personnel will be available for rehabilitation work with the inmates. Although the institution will be a correctional type for first offenders, inmates will be under guard, Grant said.

Both Caldwell and Rapides Parishes were reported to have had representatives at the meeting seeking to have the institution located in their respective parishes.

The movement for the location of the colony in Ouachita Parish got under way last Friday when the police jury extended an invitation to the state to establish the institution here.

In making the initial proposal, Juror L. B. Pettit said in his opinion the institution would not be objectionable, and pointed to the income the community would derive from its establishment in this locality. Pettit said further that in view of the fact that Louisiana Training Institute is already located here he thought it appropriate that the penal colony be in the Monroe area.

The police jury explained that Robert Butz, executive director of the Ouachita Parish Industrial Development Committee, had asked an endorsement from the police jury. "Butz said an endorsement from the police jury would lend support to the efforts to secure the institution for Ouachita Parish," Pettit said.

Two members of the jury, Roberts and Avant, opposed the resolution. Studdard declined to vote.

At its regular weekly luncheon meeting Monday the Monroe-West Monroe Junior Chamber of Commerce voted unanimously to adopt a resolution urging the state to "seriously consider the Monroe-West Monroe area" when seeking a site for the institution. Copies of the resolution are being sent to the board of institutions in Baton Rouge.

As the day continued the movement gathered momentum. Monday night the Monroe Central Trades and Labor Council unanimously voted to support the movement. James Kincaide, secretary, announced yesterday.

Kincaide explained that copies of the resolution are being sent to Reed Cozart, head of the department of institutions, and other "responsible persons."

Two Negroes Arrested For Jan. Burglary

Two Morehouse Parish Negroes have been charged with simple burglary of building materials from a Swartz residence during the latter part of January of this year. The two, one of whom is in the Ouachita Parish jail and the other incarcerated in Bastrop, are also wanted on similar charges in Morehouse Parish.

Sheriff Bailey Grant identified the two as Albert Cleveland, 35, and Willie Allen, also 35, both Negroes. Allen is in the local parish jail.

The Ouachita Parish sheriff department was notified late in January of this year that building materials had disappeared from the C. L. Hart house in Swartz. Later, in February, similar materials disappeared from dwellings around Bastrop. An investigation was begun by deputies of the Ouachita and Morehouse Parish sheriff departments, which was concluded earlier this week.

Both of the Negroes have reportedly admitted the thefts.

According to investigating officers, Allen said he had gone to the Swartz house first and had taken two of the large windows and hid them until he could put them in his own house, which he was building in Morehouse Parish. After he had told the second Negro, Allen said Cleveland had gone to Swartz and took material for a house he, too, was building.

After officers connected the two with the burglary of the Swartz residence, the owner, Hart, was called in and identified some of the material as being that which was taken from his house earlier this year.

No bonds have been set for either of the Negroes.

National Figure Making Survey Of Juvenile Problem

The Ouachita Parish detention home citizen's committee, through the cooperation of the parish police jury and the Cities of Monroe and West Monroe, is sponsoring a survey of juvenile problems in this area.

The purpose of this survey is to decide just how much juvenile delinquency actually is in Ouachita parish and how it can be handled. The survey is being made by Frederick Ward, Jr., director of the National Parole and Probation Association.

To give the residents of this area a full insight into the background of what has been done by local citizens, a short series of articles are being run in this paper. This is the second of the series.

The sponsoring of Judge Camille Kelley, judge emeritus of the Memphis, Tenn., juvenile court, was one of the outstanding events of the current campaign to bring the problems of juvenile delinquency and the court proceedings to the knowledge of the public. Judge Kelley's visit, which ended in a near-tragedy when she was stricken with a heart attack, put emphasis on the workings of one of the most successful juvenile courts in the nation.

Memphis, with its tremendous population and unnumbered juvenile cases some years ago, saw the decline in juveniles in court during the tenure of Judge Kelley. She handled, and felt towards the "cases" as she often referred to the juveniles, as her own children and took every step to eradicate the feeling the child was "being judged." This she said, was the success of her court.

Judge Kelley firmly believes that the open courts, complete with robed judges, presents more of a fear than anything else for youngsters. She referred to the possibility of having a detention home in Ouachita parish as the "most important thing connected with a juvenile court."

The eminent judge referred to a detention home as "place to keep children where they will not have to be treated like criminals, but rather as a child in a healthy homelike atmosphere. Without this atmosphere," she continued, "the detaining of children does more harm than good."

During her tenure of office, Judge Kelley handled over 50,000 cases and was the first woman juvenile judge south of the Mason-Dixon line. She was on the bench for seven consecutive terms, most of them unopposed.

Judge Kelley's visit to Monroe followed closely the opening of a receiving home for emergency care of abandoned or neglected children. The receiving home, which was first investigated by the juvenile detention committee and later turned over to the Junior Charity League, is located near Bosco and is handling cases for the entire parish. Working closely with the Junior Charity League on the project was the local office of the state department of public welfare.

"We decided to put on a sitdown strike and went to the cafeteria for a meeting yesterday. Some of the association officials called police and said we had to get out by 5 p.m. Well, we're still here and we are going to stay for a while. We might try to picket the place later in the day. I don't know just what we'll do."

"We just want to go back to work and don't want charity—that's all there is to it."

The association had no comment on the possibility of a settlement.

The plant operated by the association has several departments. About 100 blind, in addition to the broom makers, are employed. However, there isn't enough work to absorb the blind broom makers.

Officers made no attempt to evict the men. A detail watched as they tried to sleep. Some of the men slept awhile, then talked of their next step. A few played cards—with a marked deck of course, marked in Braille.

The blind broom makers went on strike last March 2, protesting a pay cut. They have no union. James Leri, 29, married and the father of one child, said:

"We had been paid $1.13 a dozen to make brooms. The association tried to cut us to 78 cents a dozen and we walked off the job. But a short time ago we offered to go back to work for 90 cents a dozen."

20 Blind Broom Makers Keep Up Sitdown Strike

By GIB STALEY
PITTSBURGH (AP)—Twenty men slept fitfully in a brilliantly lighted room last night—men who "want to work and don't want charity."

The 20 are blind. They are broom makers who have lost their jobs and they're on a sitdown strike.

The men took over the cafeteria of the Pittsburgh branch of the Pennsylvania Assn. for the Blind yesterday afternoon. A few hours later, when they showed no sign of leaving, police were called.

Officers made no attempt to evict the men. A detail watched as they tried to sleep. Some of the men slept awhile, then talked of their next step. A few played cards—with a marked deck of course, marked in Braille.

Twin Cities Shaded In 12 Innings By Greenville

Large Crowd On Hand As Bucks Rally In The 9th

Appearing hopelessly beaten in the eighth inning, the Greenville Bucks suddenly came to life in the ninth inning as they fought from behind for four runs to tie up the game, and then went on to nose out the Twin Cities Sports in twelve innings, 6 to 5, to spoil a "Baseball Appreciation Night" for Twin Cities followers who turned out 1,213 strong for the biggest crowd at Legion Memorial Stadium since the season opener.

Frank Shell's twelfth inning single that scored Jim Griffith from third won the game for the Bucks, but the game, for all intent and purposes, was actually won by the invaders in the ninth inning when they exploded for four hits, one a three-run double by Al Benza, after Bill Halley, the Sports' strikeout artist, had limited the Bucks to three singles for eight innings.

The game opened a six-game home stand for the Sports who meet the Bucks here again tonight at 8 o'clock.

The Sports, due to injuries, were playing with lineup changes that had third baseman Paul Flores at shortstop in the place of Herman Herzog, who is out with an injured knee that is hurt Saturday night at Hot Springs. Virgil Petty took over at third base. But Bob Norden, despite an ankle sprain, was holding down at first.

Fine defensive ball featured the Sports' action, particularly that of Flores who made some spectacular stops at short. C. J. Fontana also made a fine running catch of a drive off the bat of Frank Radigan, and Chuck Forbes, who collected four hits, more than half the Sports totals also made a great catch of a drive by Benza deep into left center.

Both clubs got a run in the first inning, the Bucks' tally being unearned. Jim Griffith singled to start the game for Greenville. He was trapped off first, but, in the run-down, Jim Nissel threw wild past first and Griffith raced on to second. Hugh Glaze's long fly to right field advanced Griffith to third from where he scored on Banks McDowell's fly to center. The Sports opened their first turn at bat with successive singles by Chuck Forbes and Jim Nissel. Forbes scored as Paul Flores hit into a double play.

The Sports used a variety of stuff to take two runs in the fourth inning to take a 3-1 lead. Flores was safe when his grounder got through Frank Radigan at short. C. J. Fontana was awarded first on catcher's interference. Leonard

Morrison sacrificed to put Flores and Fontana in scoring position for Sam Chetta who drove them across with a smash into left field.

Forbes brought the Sports another run in the fifth as he beat out an infield hit, advanced on a sacrifice by Nissel and scored on Fontana's line double off the right field fence. Leading off an inning with a hit for the third time, Forbes brought the Sports another tally in the seventh as he advanced on Nissel's sacrifice, an error when Nissel threw wild on an attempted pickoff, and scored on Morrison's long sacrifice fly into center field.

The Bucks, shut out for seven innings and hitless since the fourth, caught Halley relaxing in the ninth and came up with a rally that netted four runs on four hits. Glaze opened with a single. McDowell sacrificed. Frank Shell punched a single into right field, and, when Nissel missed the throw-in, Glaze, who had stopped at third, scored. Hal Martin, who had fanned in his first three trips to the plate, laced a single into left field and gained second base when the throw-in was to third. Dick Eaton walked, leading the bases. Benza cleaned the sacks with a double into left field to tie the score. Radigan was intentionally passed. Wilse fanned and Griffith fouled out to Chetta. Free passed to Nissel, Fontana and Morrison loaded the bases with Sports after two were out in the bottom of the ninth, but Chetta fanned and the game went over-time.

Then in the twelfth Halley hit Griffith with a pitched ball. He advanced on a passed ball, took third on Glaze's sacrifice fielder's choice that failed to nip Griffith at third, and Shell punched his fourth hit of the game into right field, scoring Griffith to put the Bucks ahead and sew up the game.

THAT'S OUR BOY!—Russ Kemmerer, making his first major league start by throwing a one-hitter at Baltimore, gets the attention of other players who helped to defeat the Orioles 4-0 in the first game of a doubleheader at Boston. Other Red Sox players are left to right: Jimmy Piersall, who hit homer; Jackie Jensen who hit triple and double to drive in two runs; Kemmerer, and catcher Sammy White who also homered in the game. ## Team Selected, Cronin Named As Main Referee

The tag team, elected by drawing names from a hat, of Joe Campbell and Danny Dusek defeated Jackie Fargo and Paddy Mack in the main wrestling event at Kallio's Arena last night.

The referee, selected from the mat quintet by the fans, was Pat "Big Boy" Cronin.

Campbell made Fargo give up from a crabhold after ten minutes of the first fall of the main, but Young Jackie gained revenge by pinning big Joe in nine minutes of the second.

In the third, which went five minutes, with neither Fargo nor Campbell seeing action; Dusek flattened Mack with a dropkick and applied the pin to sew up the victory for his team.

The highlight of the match was the brawl between Fargo and his partner, Mack, after the final fall. Fargo, not approving of some of Mack's illegal tactics, warned him consistently and finally wound up in a bout with his own teammate.

Both preliminaries, between Dusek and Mack; and Fargo and Campbell, went to ten minute time limit draws.

That Other 'Feller' Didn't Win Though!

By JOE REICHLER
NEW YORK (AP)—Casey Stengel is as crazy as a fox . . . and twice as sly.

Talking to newspapermen before last night's game with Chicago, the New York Yankee manager spied Whitey Ford, his ace southpaw. "You want to know who is the best left-hander in the league?" he asked. "That feller (Billy) Pierce with the White Sox. He's better than my feller. Sure I picked my feller to pitch the All-Star Game. But that was only because the other feller had just recovered from a sore arm. But the other feller is better."

Ford undoubtedly heard every word. A few moments later he arose and began throwing warmup pitches. About 2 1/2 hours later, he walked off the field with a neat eight-hitter, after pitching the Yankees to a 4-1 victory over Chicago that kept the Yankees hot on the heels of the Cleveland Indians.

Reached in the clubhouse later, Ford declined an invitation to take issue with Stengel but admitted he was determined to show his manager that he was a pretty good pitcher too.

The 24-year-old ex-serviceman turned in one of his best efforts of the year last night. He struck out five and walked only two as he posted his ninth victory against only one loss against the White Sox since he entered the league in 1950.

It was his fourth straight strong performance after a poor spring. His record, which once was 2-4, is now 9-6.

"I was all mixed up early this year," he explained. "My control was off, my curve ball wasn't doing a thing and I seemed to be going from bad to worse. I finally lost all confidence in myself and if it wasn't for Jim Turner (Yankee coach) I might be sitting in the bullpen now or pitching for Kansas City. He straightened me out."

Ford went on to explain that Turner discovered he was doing several things wrong. First, he was overstriding. Second, he was looking down on the ground after each pitch, instead of keeping his eye on the batter. Third, he was not following through his curve ball.

Yanks Win 17 Out Of 19—Who's On 1st?

By BEN PHLEGAR
AP Sports Writer

What does a feller have to do to get into first place in this league? Casey Stengel of the New York Yankees is running the hottest ball club in the American League. Only 3 1/2 games off the pace on July 1, the Yankees have won 17 out of 19 games since then.

And they still aren't up on top. Last night they came within one out of reaching their objective. They fought off third-place Chicago hands, winning 4-1. The huge scoreboard in Yankee Stadium showed Boston leading Cleveland 5-3 after eight innings.

But in the ninth at Boston Al Smith coaxed Willard Nixon for a walk with two out and Bobby Avila drilled his second home run of the contest to tie the score. That's the way it stayed through seven more innings. It wound up a 5-5 tie after 16 innings with the league curfew calling a halt.

You can't start an inning after 12:50 a.m., local time, and it was 12:57 a.m. by the time the last out was made in the 16th. It will have to be replayed from the start sometime later.

So, by four percentage points, the Indians stayed in first place. The issue may be settled temporarily this weekend when Cleveland invades New York for three games starting Friday night.

While the American League race for the winners, and Jones had two for five. No one was outstanding at the plate for the losers, who got only three hits off Dean.

Kincaid and Youngblood were the leading hitters for KLIC, with one for two and two for four respectively. Peters, with one for two; and McEachern, with two for four, paced the losers' attack. Last place Olcott downed Lennon, who hold a tie for first with Palace, 5-1. Grubbs and Futch went for the winners, and Renwick and Ethridge for the losers. Grubbs hit two homers in three trips to aid his own cause; and A. Walker and Ethridge each had one for two for the losers.

Restricted Bill On Housing Gets House Approval

WASHINGTON, July 21 (AP)—The House today passed a compromise general housing bill after defeating a final Democratic effort to restore President Eisenhower's proposal to build 140,000 public housing units in four years. The bill would permit a much more restricted public housing program—a maximum of 68,000 of the low-rent units over the next two years.

It would lower down payments on FHA loans and try to prevent further "windfall" profits such as disclosed in the recent housing investigation.

It would make many other changes, which Rep. Wolcott (R-Mich.) said would encourage a building industry boom and provide for private construction of 1,250,000 to 1,400,000 new houses a year.

Wolcott, chairman of the House Banking Committee and sponsor of the bill, said it would give President Eisenhower 95 per cent of his housing recommendations.

But Rep. Garmatz (D-Md.) said the bill, a compromise between earlier versions passed by the House and Senate, meant only a "lingering, agonizing" death for public housing.

Rep. Spencer (D-Ky.), senior Democrat on the Banking Committee, said it did nothing to end misery in slums. He predicted Democrats would be returned to power in Congress for the next 20 years because of the House action.

The compromise permits construction of 33,000 public housing units on which commitments already have been made for this fiscal year, which started last July 1. For the next year, it authorizes 35,000 units—but only where needed to house persons displaced by public slum clearance projects.

A motion by Spencer to restore the President's full program was beaten, 234-156.

MONTGOMERY, Ala., July 20 (AP)—Gov. Gordon Persons brushed off a report today that Phenix City racketeers had made a threat to his life with a flat "no comment."

However, a reliable source confirmed that the governor had received several such threats in telephone calls recently at home and in his office.

A Stubborn Mule

HOLLYWOOD, July 21. — Dear Staff: Since some of you are decidedly mullish at times — and perhaps rightly so — I'm going to take a stubborn mule as my text today. You can haw-haw all you please, but this jackass story is one in a million, and I'm determined to tell it. Okey. Hitching his wagon to a mule has paid off handsomely for Director Arthur Lubin. He is the guiding genius behind the screen's most famous quadruped, Francis, the talking mule. Lubin tells me, with a broad smile, that Francis has already earned his studio more than $10,000,000 at the box office. Yes, ten million dollars, say the figures. Lubin himself is a rare member in filmland. He's a native of Los Angeles. Born here, a distinction that few others, stars or directors, can claim. Currently he's megging the fifth in the enormously profitable series. This time "Francis Joins the WACs," and starring with the mule are Donald O'Connor, Julia Adams, Chill Wills and Mamie Van Doren.

The director says it was only because he himself had the stubbornness of a mule that the Francis stories were brought to the screen. He wanted to prove a point — that the public would take the jackass to its collective heart.

But it was a discouraging process. Lubin went to all the studios with his property and proposition. He couldn't persuade anyone to risk a modest investment in translating the fantasy to celluloid fare. Four years of it. It was only when Universal - International listened that Lubin began to get hearings. The results are now cinematic history. Francis is a four-legged celebrity. He's a star among stars. The voice of the mule, through all the cries, has been that of the Texas-born Chill Wills. But not until the present vehicle has been permitted to be seen as well as heard. He speaks in exactly the same tones as the animal. In surveying the success of his protegee, Lubin said to me: "I think everyone has felt, at one time or another, that animals wished they could talk, so they could give expression to their thoughts. It's fairly easy to accept Francis behaving much as a mule might if so empowered."

In the present film is flattery, hand-wringing Zasu Pitts. She ought to add to the comedy values. So back to Lubin for a final word: "I'm glad I hitched on to his wagon, because I still think Francis has a long way to travel."

JIMMIE FIDLER

Dear Boss: Glad you learned who has been ghost - talking for Francis. Always wondered about that mule. This "Francis Joins the WACs" should be a whopper for fun, with Donald O'Connor and Zasu Pitts in there to aid and abet.

Now for our chatter marathon: Rex Allen, our western star, went to Colorado this week for a 200-mile trail ride deep into the Rockies as a guest of Governor Dan Thornton. Susan Hayward says she's going to buy a ranch not too far from Hollywood, establish her home there and commute to and from the film city. Well? Then we hear she plans to set up a home in Spain, where she'll wed a bullfighter. Now, Susan, just

Louisiana Bank And Agriculture Leaders At Meet

LAKE LAND, Fla., July 21 (AP) — About 180 Louisiana bankers and agriculture leaders took a look at Polk County's farm and industrial attractions today.

The group is making a survey of the investment, development and marketing aspects of major industries in flourishing areas of the southeastern United States.

The Louisianians arrived by train at nearby Plant City early this morning and came here to hear a talk on the Florida cattle industry by Dr. W. G. Kirk, head of the state range cattle station at Ona.

They then toured the Clear Lake and Gordon Bros. ranches, went through several groves, and inspected the Adams and Snow Crop citrus plants at Auburndale. Officials of the Peoples Bank of Auburndale presented a report on industrial conditions in that area.

In the afternoon they visited the J. K. Stuart and Eugene Griffin ranches near Bartow and spent the rest of the day at phosphate plants of the Davidson Chemical Co. in the Bartow area.

HEADED STRAIGHT
COLUMBIA, S.C. (AP) — David Joyner's unusual plea on a drunkenness charge paid off in City Court here yesterday. He admitted he was drunk but said he was on his way to church.

"At least," said the judge, "you were headed in the right direction. So drunk or sober, I'm going to suspend your sentence."

Knows How Nice It Is To Walk Above Ground

HOPEWELL JUNCTION, N.Y. (AP) — David Ronk now knows better than most other 13-year-olds just how nice it is to be able to walk around above ground.

He learned this yesterday when he spent seven hours half buried at the bottom of a 10-foot hole. He was trapped there while helping to dig a well in a farmhouse cellar.

Rescuers did their best to prop up sides of the hole to prevent a further cave-in that could have completely buried the boy. They placed a barrel around David for added protection.

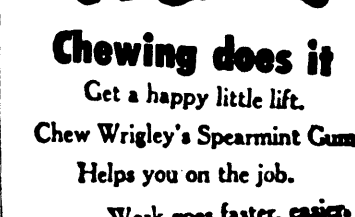

Still there was always danger of further collapse, and at one point David wept in fear as additional dirt poured down into the hole.

Most of the time, however, his spirits were high. He joked with rescuers, read comic books and drew pictures. For lunch he had sandwiches and coffee.

Under the direction of a state highway engineer, rescue workers dug a trench down to the level where David was buried and freed him. The boy was unhurt except for slightly swollen legs.
